StoZone® Sanitisation

“bacteria solutions since 2014”

Our developed dry sanitisation services rids all environments and surfaces of bacteria including all microbial activity instantly.

The StoZone® dry sanitisation process actively and quickly targets bacteria and other microbial activity – killing it instantly. And as our process requires no water or added chemical, rooms and surfaces require no drying period or any additional work to reduce chemical odour.

Once the process is complete, you are free to enter the room – ready to use.

StoZone® provides dry sanitisation services to a wide range of customers and industries both locally and nationally – including:
